

The background is a photograph of a sunset or sunrise over a body of water. The sky is a deep blue, transitioning into a bright orange and yellow glow at the horizon. The water reflects this light. There are several abstract overlays: a large, semi-transparent olive-green oval in the upper left; a thin, diagonal gold line crossing the top; a large, semi-transparent grey oval on the left side; and a semi-transparent white oval on the right side containing a reflection of a sky with clouds. The word 'reflet' is written in a large, white, serif font, centered in the upper half of the image.
